The eighteenth century style of Robert Adam is particularly accented in the Rose Room. The ornately painted and decorated furniture and ornamental plaster with Greek and Roman motifs. The room is light and comfortable, with soft shades of rose setting off the monochrome and blue stained glass windows. The stained glass window along the south wall was moved from the old Scottish Rite Temple in Guthrie when our present Temple was built.

The grandeur of the room is typical of the Adam style, and presents a magnificent centerpiece for the overall atmosphere.

Farewell to Our Brother and Friend

It will be a bittersweet time for reunion workers and long time members of the Guthrie Scottish Rite as we open a reunion without the presence of our beloved brother, James T. Tresner II, 33° G.C.

Dr. Tresner was born on November 11, 1941 in Enid, Oklahoma and passed from this life on July 12, 2018.

Brother Jim will be remembered throughout the fraternity as an accomplished Masonic author and statesman. But we know in the Scottish Rite the staging of the degrees was Jim’s passion. Even before he was named Director of Work for the Guthrie Valley in 1989, he worked tirelessly to improve the costuming, staging and acting of all 29 degrees of the Scottish Rite. His background in community theatre brought an understanding of the theatre form of education to a level unsurpassed in the fraternity.

We will miss him dearly, but his brilliance will remain with us through his writings, direction and most particularly, his voice. When next you visit a reunion, listen for his voice as he continues to teach and guide each new generation of Scottish Rite Masons in the Guthrie Valley.

The Scottish Rite Rose Croix Memorial Service for Dr. Tresner will be performed at 4:00 pm on October 6, 2018, in the main auditorium.

Eulogy

(Delivered by Tim Heaton, 33° at Brother Jim’s memorial service)

Brothers and ladies, many of you have had the pleasure of hearing Jim Tresner speak before and know he is eloquent and entertaining. If you are a Guthrie Scottish Rite Mason, you have certainly heard him give educational lectures. If you received your Scottish Rite degrees here you most certainly have heard his intro to the degrees. This is an important lecture because it prepares the mind to understand the Scottish Rite. Our degrees are rich, deep and full of information. It is my purpose to prepare your minds to receive a Tresner talk because he too is rich, deep, and full of information.

When I first joined the Scottish Rite in 1986 I was 23 years old and had only started my Masonic journey a year and a half before. I had a lot of questions, but, at that time it wasn’t easy finding answers. Remember, those of you who are old enough, in 1986 there was no internet. If you wanted to learn some obscure bit of knowledge you had to look it up in a book or find someone who knew. I was fortunate enough to meet Jim Tresner. He was 44 years old then and had already learned and taught Masonry for as long as I had been alive. He spoke as if an English professor had swallowed a dictionary; I don’t mean he was condescending; he simply spoke as if you already knew these things too. And when he finished speaking, you did know them. He never said listen, if an English professor had swallowed a dictionary. I don’t mean he was condescending; he simply spoke as if you already knew these things too. And when he finished speaking, you did know them. He never said listen, I was fortunate enough to meet Jim Tresner. He was 44 years old then and had already learned and taught Masonry for as long as I had been alive. He spoke as if an English professor had swallowed a dictionary; I don’t mean he was condescending; he simply spoke as if you already knew these things too. Jim has done this for his entire 50 year Masonic career. In a moment he will speak, he will entertain, and when he is finished, you will have learned something.

For those of us who have known him for 10 or 20 or even 30 years he has been our Socrates, our Merlin, our Gandalf, our Pike, and our Professor Dumbledore, but most importantly our friend.

Brothers and Ladies, Jim Tresner.

Brother Richard Allison, 33° Named Director of Work

Illustrous Rick Allison 33° of Enid has been appointed as the Director of Work for the Guthrie Valley.

Brother Allison joined the Guthrie Scottish Rite in December 1978 and has been active in the degree work throughout. Rick has served as a cast member of several degrees, including the 9-10-11th, the 21st, the 27th and the 30th degrees.

He was invested with the Knight Commander Court of Honor in 1983, and coronated a 33° in 1999. He also served as the Wise Master of the Chapter of Rose Croix in 2003.

We are confident Rick will do a great job for the Valley, and we are pleased he has agreed to take on this responsibility in our behalf.

Although the impact of the Guthrie Scottish Rite’s contribution to the OSU Speech-Language-Hearing Clinic cannot accurately be portrayed by numbers, facts or figures, we are thrilled to report the success of this partnership.

Through the generous support of the Guthrie Scottish Rite, Ms. Lisa Ashley has been hired as a full-time Clinical Supervisor and is making tremendous impact on the program. Since she began her tenure at Oklahoma State University, Ms. Ashley has supervised 40 graduate students (20 in the spring semester and 20 in the summer semester) who each work one-on-one with a child client. As such, the Guthrie Scottish Rite Clinical Supervisor, has been an instrumental part of treating 48 children as well as educating the future speech-language clinicians of Oklahoma.

Ms. Ashley is supervising first-year students in our graduate program who will be graduating in May of 2019. These clinical students will be going off campus this year to fill two placements, one that is primarily child focused. Children throughout Oklahoma and beyond will be served through a variety of settings including hospitals, rehabilitation centers, outpatient clients and schools.

We are excited to track these students as they enter the rewarding career of Speech Pathology. Our students are aware and incredibly grateful that they have the opportunity to be a part of the OSU Communication Sciences and Disorders program because of the generous support of the Guthrie Scottish Rite and the RiteCare initiative.

I think Ms. Ashley is a fantastic supervisor who excels at fostering the student clinician’s ideas and implementations. She is incredibly patient and allows her students the opportunities needed to grow. I’m so glad Guthrie Scottish Rite has provided a way for us to have access to such a wonderful supervisor.

Last spring we featured a beautiful water color rendering of King Solomon’s Arch on the cover of the Oklahoma Scottish Rite Mason. This painting was crafted by Marsha Hill, an Oklahoma member of the Order of Eastern Star.

Ms. Hill has completed six of these representations of our magnificent Temple. She sold the prints at Masonic events this past year and donated 100% of the proceeds to our Temple Improvement Fund at our Reunion in April. Even more, she has donated the prints to us so that we can continue to raise money for the Temple Improvement Fund!

The Valley currently has for sale prints of the watercolors. They are $25.00 each or a complete set of 6 for $100.00. There were only 50 numbered sets produced. If you would like to purchase a set, or would like to view the prints, please come by the Valley Admin Office.

During the Spring Reunion, Marsha Hill and representatives of her OES chapter presented a check for $2,300 to S.G.I.G. Manning. This represented the proceeds made from sales of her temple watercolors and will benefit the Temple Improvement Fund.

CONTINUING THE RITECARE MISSION AT OSU

As we approach the 100th Anniversary of the ground breaking for our magnificent Temple, we are printing excerpts from our book “100 Years of Scottish Rite Masonry in the Valley of Guthrie” as compiled by Frank A. Derr, 33° General Secretary of the Guthrie Valley from 1908-1946 and Robert G. Davis, 33°, G.C., General Secretary from 1986 to 2016.

“The greatest Scottish Rite demonstration known to the history of the jurisdiction was staged Thursday afternoon when a parade, two miles in length, marched from the Rite Temple to the cathedral site...”

Thus the editor of The Oklahoma Consistory began his write up in the February issue in describing the cornerstone ceremony conducted by the Grand Lodge on Thursday afternoon, January 20, 1921. It was a grand event indeed.

Led by the Shrine Band and patrol, the procession marched from the old temple site at Harrison and Broad streets, through downtown Guthrie and east on Oklahoma Avenue to the cathedral grounds. There were no vehicles in the parade. Everyone walked—even the 600 women.

Following the Shrine Band were the women of the Eastern Star Chapter #12, the Knights Templar, the Royal Arch Masons, the Cathedral Cornerstone Class of 430 candidates, Masons of the two Guthrie Lodges, followed by the Grand Lodge and Scottish Rite officers. Arriving at the new temple site, the cornerstone ceremonies were carried out by the Grand Lodge officers as prescribed by the ritual. Grand Master Frank Derr presided. The oration was given by Henry S. Johnston.

Derr, 33° General Secretary of the Guthrie Valley from 1908-1946 and Robert G. Davis, 33°, G.C., General Secretary from 1986 to 2016.

The cornerstone itself was a perfect cube of dark gray Oklahoma granite from Cold Springs, Oklahoma and weighed 3,500 pounds.

Contents of Temple Cornerstone

Perhaps in another two hundred years when the Scottish Rite Masonic Center is razed to make room for a larger building, the Scottish Rite Masons of that day will examine with interest the following collection of artifacts deposited in the cornerstone which is located at the northwest corner of the West temple porch. The items and donors are listed here:

- Holy Bible, Square and Compass by John R. Abernathy, 33°
- Proceedings of 1919 Supreme Council Session by Wm Freeman, 33°
- Proceedings of 1920 Grand Lodge Session by William Anderson, 33°
- Proceeds of 1920 Grand Chapter, OES by Marion M. Madsen
- History of the Guthrie Scottish Rite by Teague Ray, 33°
- Roster of Albert Pike Lodge #162 by Gus Borrgan, 32°
- Roster of Guthrie Lodge #35 by E.M. Bamford, PGM
- Roster of Guthrie Chapter #12, OES by Mrs. J.S. Shawer
- Roster of Oklahoma Consistory by J.E. Woodward, 33°
- Roster of Class and Officers, January 1921 by J.W. McNish, 33°

“With building, comes financial accountability. It wasn’t long until Guthrie’s focus had to turn to the practical side of things—how to pay for the monument they had conceived. The audit report issued for the 1921 fiscal year showed that the original $750,000 which had been set aside for the new Temple had already been expended. The first fiscal year of construction had taken its toll on available resources.

Less than a year into the construction, the Building Association sharpened its pencil and began looking for ways costs could be cut. They decided on a compromise plan with Hotelley & Son to eliminate the stone from certain areas of the building and to also employ a cheaper grade of stone in some portions of the building. For example, it was decided the enclosed causeway between the new building and the old Convention Hall would be faced with brick instead of granite. The elimination of limestone along the south side of the auditorium above the low room over the Blue Room and the omission of the cornice above the Blue Room north wall were directed in an effort to save costs. A hard buff Indiana limestone was ordered for the west steps and landings of the temple. The Board also asked the architects to provide an underground causeway and not erect the above hallway at all. (It was later determined that such an option would not be practical.) As for the limestone, when the final contract was settled, the limestone facing for the Temple came to $312,510. As an overall cost control maneuver, the architects were ordered to furnish a complete set of plans for both the new temple and the old convention hall restoration at a total cost not to exceed $1,500,000. Further, Anton Classens was asked to formulate a plan and get propositions from available experts to develop and launch a publicity campaign with the purpose of raising sufficient funds to prosecute the completion of the building program.

In the meantime, all was not well with the labor force. A special committee of the Board had been appointed to adjust the wage scale on the work. The committee reported that all carpenters had been notified the scale of wages would be reduced from $1.00 to 87¢ per hour. Upon notice, all carpenters quit work under the claim that their wages could not be reduced without thirty days notice and then only after approval from their union headquarters. It was agreed that, in the future, all settlement of wage disputes be left in the hands of the general contractor, with orders to require the carpenters to resume work at the present scale of $1.00 per hour, with the notice that wages would be reduced to 87¢ per hour as per the notice terms of the contract.

By June 1921, the outlook for completing the temple... was bleak. After due consideration of the present financial condition, the lack of available funds to pay for the work already under contract, and the fact there seemed to be no immediate prospect for obtaining available funds, the Building Association voted to terminate the contract with James Stewart and Co. just as soon as the building could be adequately enclosed to prevent vandalism and damage. The general contractor’s representative, Mr. Frederickson, informed the Board in July that he had presented the committee’s request to James Stewart and Co. and it was rejected. The Board decided to employ a person to serve as the representative on the committee on the works. The brick Masons employed on the work were reduced to six men, and the services of Frederickson, who was the concrete foreman, were terminated.

In August, the Board disposed of Victory Bonds which had been held by the Association. Yet, the vision of a grand temple that would work for the production of the degrees was never compromised. In September, the Building Committee directed the architect to arrange the proper support so that a revolving stage could be installed at a later date. (The revolving stage was never actually built, but the superstructure is in place to the current day to effect the same at any time it is so desired.)

By December, the Building Association realized that additional funds would have to be raised and recommended the Lodge of Perfection pass a referendum selling another $400,000 in first mortgage bonds to the membership at 6% per annum, payable in 10 years. Secretary Frank Derr, while voting to sell the bonds to assist in financing the construction, announced to the Board that he was fed up with the unpleasant relations between the Board, the contractor and laborers, and would resign as a member of the Building Association immediately, directing that J.W. Bickell be the liaison between the construction project and the Temple. Derr would not return to the Building Board until the project was almost completed.

Temple Construction Proceeds on Schedule Through the 1920s...

In March 1922, the Building Association rescinded their action in December, calling for a bond issue at a lower level, and the project was back on line. Derr was given absolute authority to procure and recommend the Lodge of Perfection pass a referendum selling another $400,000 in first mortgage bonds to the membership at 6% per annum, payable in 10 years. Secretary Frank Derr, while voting to sell the bonds to assist in financing the construction, announced to the Board that he was fed up with the unpleasant relations between the Board, the contractor and laborers, and would resign as a member of the Building Association immediately, directing that J.W. Bickell be the liaison between the construction project and the Temple. Derr would not return to the Building Board until the project was almost completed.

The Scottish Rite leadership was anxious to make the move to the new space as soon as possible. A special luncheon was held during the Spring Reunion to recognize our newest 50 year members. They were present with their families to be honored by Ill Joe R. Manning, Jr. 33°, S.G.I.G. in Oklahoma. In attendance were seated: Roy Lindsey, Foy Sellers and Bobby Warfield. Standing: Jim Patterson, KCCH, Anibel Pratt, Joe Perks, Dave McLewers, KCCH and Joe R. Manning, Jr., 33° S.G.I.G.
